

News round-up

Stories from Torpoint
and the Rame Peninsula

CORNWALL Harbours Board chairman Loic Rich and Councillor John Isaac at the official opening of the new facilities

Facilities launched at harbour

NEW kayak and dinghy racks at Portwrinkle have been snapped up by boat owners – and a mechanised winch is proving to be a boon to harbour users.

Parish councillor John Isaac said: 'The opening event was attended by many boat and kayak owners and villagers.'

'The dinghy and kayak racks are already fully occupied, meaning that the number of people able to use the harbour has doubled, which is fantastic.'

'It's been bustling down there with kayaks everywhere.'

The facilities were officially opened by Cornwall Harbours Board chairman Loic Rich. A £5,850 grant for the racks and winch came from the Coastal Communities Revival Fund.

THE new mechanised winch

THE new dinghy and kayak storage rack

Working day at